My Community and I

MY COMMUNITY is the place where my home is founded, where my children are educated, where my income is earned, where my friends dwell, and where my life is chiefly lived.

I have chosen it, after due consideration, from among all the places of the earth. It is the home spot for me.

My community has a right to my civic loyalty. It supports me and I must support it.

My community wants my citizenship, not my partisanship; my friendliness, not my offishness; my co-operation not my dissention; my sympathy, not my criticism; my intelligent civic interest, not my selfishness.

My community supplies me with home, income, friends, recreation, morals and the right of a free-born American.

I should believe in my community; work for it—

AND I WILL

NAPA BOY WINS PRIZE IN LEGEND CONTEST

The San Francisco Examiner some time ago offered a prize for the best Indian legend which were designated "Tepee Tales." The prize was won by Sanford Gardner, 14 years of age, of Napa, who is a nephew of Mrs. Charlotte Waddell of Campbell. His story was entitled "Legend of the Stone Face" which we are publishing:

LEGEND OF THE STONE FACE

Many years ago, in the valley which is now called Wooden Valley, there lived a tribe of Indians. They never knew that there were any people around them until one day they saw the smoke pouring forth from Mt. St. Helena. They thought it was a large man, much larger than they were, smoking his pipe.

One day the chief of the tribe asked his men if "any of them would go with him to see what it was."

They all volunteered to go and see what it was.

So they all started out the next day.

When they got to the top of the hill they looked down into a fertile valley which is now called Napa Valley.

They started down the other side and up toward Mt. St. Helena. They traveled for many sleeps. One day they came to the base of the mountain.

They had just got there when the mountain began to smoke and throw forth a few rocks.

They were frightened and prayed to the Great Spirit to send them aid. He heard them and answered their plea.

He then sent forth a huge bird with a human head and all the Indians climbed on his back and were brought home safely. The monster's head is seen to this day on the Monticello road, and the rest of the monster has been turned into trees and rocks.

WON ONE, LOST ONE

Campbell Hi boys played a practice game of base ball last week with San Jose and another Wednesday with Santa Clara, losing the first and winning the second, the latter score being 5-3.

In Wednesday's game the line up was Clark, p; B. Reed, c; Townsend, 1b; Bonaccorso, 2 b; Nischada, 3 b; D. Feathers and Priestly, s. s.; Hulsman, lf; Sawyer, cf; H. Shelley, rf. There are several others who are out this year and may secure places on the team or act as alternates, among them are Yamamoto, W. Murphy, P. Shelley and Chick Yammada.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL NOTES

On account of the prevailing epidemic of flu and grippe a great many pupils are absent. This week about one hundred are out.

* * *

The entire school met in the Assembly hall Wednesday afternoon and despite the many absentees, the lower floor was practically filled.

* * *

The spring vacation this year will be from March 23 to April 2.

* * *

The finishing touches are being put in the school. The lights in the rooms and radiators in the halls are being installed.

* * *

The date for the dedication has been set for the evening of the sixth of April. There will be an open house all day and the speaker of the evening will be the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Will C. Wood.

* * *

There was a baseball game played last Friday with the Los Gatos boys, resulting in a decided victory for Campbell.

C. W. C. DISCUSSES WOMEN POETS

As evidenced by the program on "Women Poets" which was so ably handled by Mrs. Lillie F. Shaw at the meeting of the Country Woman's Club, the artists in that line are not a disappearing race.

Mrs. I. W. Snow's name appeared on the program with Mrs. Shaw's, but at the last she was unable to send her paper and Mrs. H. C. Smith assisted the chairman.

Mrs. Shaw's paper dealt with the older poets and was full of bright bits of witticism and comments. She read from an exceedingly interesting sketch of the life of Elizabeth Barrett Browning, bringing her before the members in a new and romantic light, but not so palely sentimental as customary. The paper dwelt upon that beautiful poem of Jean Ingelow's "The High Tide on the Coast of Lincolnshire." Mrs. Shaw skillfully selected the remarkable pictures of that long poem and recited several of them. She touched upon Felicia Hermen's grand stanzas, "The Landing of the Pilgrims." Attention was then turned to our earlier American writers, Celia Thaxter, Alice and Phoebe Carey and others. Mrs. Shaw also recited parts of a poem of Alice Carey's illustrating her statement that there was more than lyric melody in her works.

Later, when the contemporary writers of verse were under consideration, she touched upon the charming writings of Sarah Teasdell.

Mrs. Smith gave a few notes on the life of Mrs. Alice Meynell, who so recently died, and read of few lines illustrating the style of several other women whose verses are published and commented upon in the best magazines, and Mrs. Shaw named a number more. Those quoted were Amy Lowell, Edna St. Vincent Millay, Ina Coalbrith, Edna Dean Proctor and Alice Meynell.

The next meeting will be a social one at the home of Mrs. James Turner on Los Gatos-Santa Clara Road. Each member is requested to come prepared with an Irish joke to be told over the teacups.

PERFORMANCE PLEASED

The benefit theatrical staged Friday evening for the especial aid of the Orchard City Grange paper fund was a most pleasing performance. The play "His Uncle's Niece" was very well given by the popular Sunnyvale "stellars" netting about $50 to the local society.

Millard Berry who got his start before the footlights in Campbell high antics , was very much at home in his dual role, almost meeting himself at times and his prevarications got him "deeper and deeper day by day."

The plot was full of laughable predicaments brought out to good advantage by all. The troup "a one night stander" is also its own orchestra , showing much talent as musical entertainers

FIREMEN DANCE MAR. 17

With reference to the dance of the Campbell Volunteer Fire Department to be held Saturday night, March 17 at the California Canneries Co. plant, would say that the preparation room of the cannery is being arranged for the comfort of the Fire Department patrons and friends. A platform is being erected for the music, and canvas is being hung over the ventilators to shut out the night air. Ample and comfortable rest rooms for ladies. Only one entrance will be open, that on R. R. Avenue and Hopkins St. The rest of the cannery buildings are being blocked off so that the dance hall will be entirely separate from the rest of the plant. A good time is assured to all.

REP. WRIGHT TALKS ON THE BUDGET

The principal feature at Tuesday evening's Grange meeting was an address by our assemblyman, T. M. Wright. His talk was mainly devoted to the Governor's Budget.

He first pointed out that the people do pay State taxes, but that the State's revenues are received entirely from corporate interests—that is railroads, water, light and power companies, etc.—and to cut down State expenses and State taxes would not reduce the county taxes of the farmer and orchardist and the little home owner in the least.

He believed in the reduction of State taxes wherever they could be reduced without in any way crippling the educational, reformatory and other progressive institutions; but that our pupulation was growing rapidly and the expenses of running our schools and other beneficial government enterprises necessarily would increase from year to year. He said that the cut proposed in the school funds, especially of the teachers' colleges, the agricultural college and of several other institutions, would be a severe blow to them all. He gave us a long list of facts and figures showing how unfavorably many of our best public institutions would be affected. He spoke of the argument that these taxes on railroads, water works, etc., would be passed on to the people through higher rates and called attention to the fact that it was becoming harder and harder for the corporate interests to pass these taxes on to the people on account of the control over them exercised by the government. He hoped for some very material changes in the beudget before it became a law. Several other matters of importance were also touched upon, but time did not allow more full discussion.

A rising vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Wright and a recess followed to allow his many friends to shake hands with him.

After the recess a class of 8 new members was given the obligation in the first and second dedrees.

A resolution favoring the new county water and irrigation project was unanimously passed.

The third and fourth degrees will be conferred on a large class at the next grange meeting, March 13th, followed by the usual banquet.

TO PUBLISH COOK BOOK

The Grammar School P. T. A. is going to publish a cook book and requests the ladies of Campbell and vicinity to send in a couple of their best recipes—signed with their names.

The proceeds from the sale of the book are to help with the providing of hot lunches for the children at school.

Recipes may be sent to the school or to Mrs. Clara Baldwin, chairman of the Cook Book Committee.

BUYS BUSINESS

M. E. Kennedy recently bought the insurance department of the S. N. Hedegard real estate and insurance business and Mrs. Kennedy is actively in charge of the office.

They have an office in Mr. Hedegard's building where Mrs. Kennedy may be found afternoons, as she is still assisting in the office of Geo. E. Hyde & Co. mornings.

There is a good field here for this line and taking up an established business as they have, Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy should do well.

Mrs. Fred Bohrman returned this week from Pacific Grove where she has been with her mother, Mrs. Collins. Mrs. Collins has been quite sick for some time, and is now in a sanitarium.

MR. AND MRS. BRANT WILL GIVE CONCERT

A concert given jointly by LeRoy V. Brant, organist, and Mrs. LeRoy V. Brant, mezzo-soprano, will be the feature of the evening in the Methodist church of Los Gatos on Tuesday, March 20. Admission will be free, but a silver offering will be taken for the benefit of the choir fund of the church.

Mr. Brant, who is director of The Institute of Music of San Jose, is one of the well known organists of Santa Clara County.

He holds the degrees of Bachelor of Music, and that of Associate of The American Guild of Organists of the United States and Canada. He was recently elected head of the San Jose Chapter of the Guild. He is organist and choirmaster of Trinity church, San Jose, organist and choirmaster for the San Jose Scottish Rite Bodies, and organist and choirmaster for one of the Masonic Blue Lodges of San Jose.

He states that the program for the evening will be interspersed with explanatory remarks calculated to make for a better understanding of some of the more complicated numbers.

Mrs. Brant, who is one of the singing teachers of the Institute, will present some of the more beautiful of the modern songs.

Her voice is rich and sympathetic, and it is said that she scored a great success as soloist at a recent function of the Commercial Club of San Jose. In her work at the Institute she has presented several pupils of merit to the public.

Miss Alice Hitchcock, also of the Institute, will act as Mrs. Brant's accompanist for the evening, the program to begin at 8 o'clock.

JOHN M'DOUGALL DEAD

John M. McDougall, proprietor of "Mack's Grill", who had been ill for several weeks at his former home in Mountain View, passed away on Monday, March 5. Funeral services were held Wednesday morning and interment made at Santa Clara.

Mr. McDougall was a native of New York and while not a young man, was seemingly robust and had the promise of many years activity, but the insidious flu with succeeding complications proved to be beyond his rallying power. He is survived by his wife and one daughter, Helen M. Randal.

Mr. and Mrs. McDougall came to Campbell last summer and bought the Neff restaurant which they conducted until recently when they went to Mountain View for a short visit and Mr. McDougall was taken sick.

TO SPREAD SELF-EDUCATION

The federal bureau of education has compiled statistics which show that out of the 2,964 counties in the United States, 2,170 of them do not contain a public library in which may be found at least 5,000 books. In other words, less than 800 counties have libraries of at least fair size for the use of the residents of the counties. While this situation is not surprising it is, nevertheless, true that the lack of library facilities retards, to a considerable degree, the educational progress of the country as a whole.

But a "Books for Everybody" movement has been launched by the American Library Association which plans to lessen the difficulties of securing access to books of all descriptions. According to the association "Librarians believe that many of the industrial and economic problems that are now agitating the country have arisen from a lack of knowledge on the part of the agitators. They are confident that dissenination of the truth on all sides of all questions will do much toward solving of these problems."

BE GLAD AND REJOICE

Vivian Yeiser Laramore

You who are troubled and half afraid
Of the unlovely things your thoughts have made,
Be glad! for the temple may still be wrought
A thing of beauty, by beautiful thought.

And you who are weary and full of woe
Because of the gladness you did not sow,
Rejoice! for the seedtime comes anew,
And the harvest of happiness waits for you.

THE FRIENDLY WORLD

For as much as I do love the stretching sea,
The heavens blue, the leaf of vine and tree,
The mountains, and the valley, and the plain,
And find in desert places founts of gain;
And since I love the song birds and the flowers,
The day, the night, the dark, the sunny hours,
And for my fellow man whoe'er he be
Have feelings fond, and truly neighborly,
It matters little where I chance to roam—
I'm never far from home.

Three-year-old Walter Stuetz Jr., only child of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stuetz found a nearly empty bottle in the back yard of his home in Los Angeles. Half an hour later he died at the receiving hospital from the effects of drinking caustic poison.

Ben Smith, alleged slayer, captured in Sacramento by police, admitted he is John ("Pug") Hallum, wanted in Texas for murder, but denied he was implicated in the crime. Deputy Sheriff Thomas Snow of Fort Worth has arrived to secure papers and return Hallum to Texas.

THE BOOSTER SPIRIT
AND
CANNED FOODS WEEK

Since our community is being captured by the booster spirit, as exemplified in the "Booster's Corner," we think that this booster spirit may very fittingly be exercised by us in talking for Canned Foods Week. The subject concerns an industry which means a great deal to Campbell.

Recall one of our talks last summer when, to bring out the importance of the local canneries, we told of the big weekly pay-roll totaling $31,017.05.

There is, indeed, scarcely a house in this community that is not in some way vitally affected by the canning industry. Many of our people, men, women and children, depend on the canneries for work. Then come the farmers, who find the canneries a convenient local market. Next are the business houses that sell to workers and farmers, and to the canners themselves, goods and service. Finally, even the man retired on a competence is, if his funds are invested locally, not independent. In some indirect way, through business, farms or banks, the canning industry is helping to pay the interest on his money.

Let the local booster spirit, then, co-operate with the spirit of Canned Foods Week. How co-operate? When you are eating, say, corn from a can put up in Iowa or Maine, remember that people "back East" who are affected by the corn canning industry are co-operating with us by eating canned fruit put up in Campbell.

The Word Contest.

Yes, the checking of lists is progressing, but it means lots of work. Be assured, however, that we will announce the winners as soon as possible.

Canned Foods Week
ENDS SATURDAY

Saturday bids farewell to Canned Foods Week, for this year.

The idea of having such "weeks" is good. It helps producers by spreading knowledge of their wares. It helps consumers by acquainting them with a wider variety of foods. To make these drives effective, our part is to co-operate with unusually attractive advertising and prices; and your part is to co-operate with unusually responsive buying.

PATRICIA COMBINATION SALAD: Vegetable Salad is one of the latest things in cans. On a tin of "Patricia" we read, "this can contains asparagus tips, peas, carrots, pimientoes, ripe olives, string beans." Served with mayonnaise, Vegetable Salad is a new delight. Particularly good to have on the shelf for an emergency. The can, 30c.

JHN STRINGLESS BEANS: These beans are small and whole. Being unusually tender, they are especially adapted for serving in a salad combination of your own. In opening a can of JHN Stringless Beans, notice that the contents are irreproachably clean, that the liquid is crystal clear. The can, this week, 25c.

CLUFF GOLDEN BANTAM CORN: Formerly known only as a fine home-garden variety, "Golden Bantam" first drew general notice as a valuable canned product last year. The sweet, melting kernels are golden yellow—they have captured the morning tints of the sunny, summer days that produced the little tender grains and flavored them so deliciously. In the world of canned corn, "Golden Bantam" has created a sensation. It tops all others. The can, this week, 23c.

EAGLE CANNED ASPARAGUS: This is also a new idea—an experiment in packing asparagus ungraded, thus keeping the cost down. The quick response of buyers is very encouraging. Tall can, 30c:

Imported French Peas, "Petit Pois," this sale, ... .23
Country Gentleman Corn, Perfect Brand, this sale, . . . .18
Maine Corn, Polland Brand, this sale .18
Silver Leaf Corn, special continued this week, 2 for 25c; doz., . . $1.40
Silver Star Peas, Marrowfat variety large but tender, 2 for . . . . .25
Maryland Chief String Beans, 2 .25

For Saturday, the final day of canned goods week, make up an assortment of the offerings that interest you. Become an authority, through actual trials, of comparative values in different brands.

Saturday afternoon the members of the boys' and girls' basket-ball teams of the C. U. H. S., chaperoned by several members of the faculty, enjoyed a delightful moonlight picnic at Long Bridge. A sumptuous supper aided and abetted by roasted wieners was, of course, one of the main events, but a hike, bonfires and games held equal sway.

The trustees of the C. U. G. S. have set the date for the dedication of the new building for the evening of Friday, April 6, and are planning for extensive exercises, more notice of which will appear later. It was impossible to have Superintendent Will C. Wood here at any earlier date, so that it seemed best to set it then, and it is hoped that the prevailing illnesses may be practically over by then.

E. H. Jones, frost expert assisting E. S. Nichols of the San Jose weather bureau in obtaining frost data of the valley, has appointed as observers in this locality, Leroy Anderson for Moreland, Santa Clara and Saratoga Roads; Stanley B. Smith, Vasona Junction, San Tomas, Aquino Road, and Dr. W. F. Crothers, Hamiltan Avenue, Hamilton Avenue north of Campbell. They will keep record of the variation of temperature.

AMOUNTED TO SAME THING

Two children were playing in a garden, and had just started a new game.

"I know a fine game," said Harold suddenly. "Let's be admirals and command all the ships in the navy."

His playmate, a little girl, at once began imposing conditions.

"All right," she said. "Only I must be the highest admiral and give commands to you."

Harold didn't like the idea, and said so. The little girl thought for a moment.

"Then," she said, "let's play that I'm the admiral's wife. That will do just as well."

Painless prices for printing at the Press office.

SHE WAS ECONOMIZING

"What's this?" inquired the young husband, referring to the memorandum she had given him. "One dozen eggs, a pound of raisins, a bottle of lemon extract, a tin of ground cinnamon and half a pound of sugar. What do you want with all these things, Marabelle?"

"I've got a stale loaf," replied the young wife, "that I'm going to save by working ia up into a bread pudding. I never let anything go to waste, Harry."

Press advertising brings results.

Passenger. "I say, driver, what is the average life of a locomotive?"

Driver. "Oh, about thirty years, sir."

Passenger. "I should think such a tough-looking thing would last longer than that."

Driver. "Well, perhaps it would, sir, if it didnt smoke so much."

IN this age when science has made light, power and water everywhere available, when machinery has lessened labor and anaesthetics have dulled the edge of pain, the funeral director has utilized science to lighten the burden of the sorrowing.

With the aid of science he is able to protect the family and the community from the danger of contagion, to make transportation safe, and to remove the traces of illness and unnaturalness which used to accentuate the grief caused by death.

With the help of professionally trained assistants, modern equipment, motorized conveyances, and often a fine funeral home or chapel, he is able to relieve the family of all details, and perform a service that brings comfort in the darkest hour and affords the consoling consciousness that the last tribute has been fitting and beautiful.

BIG RAILROAD MERGER PLAN

Holden Urges Four Systems of Railroad Lines

WASHINGTON—A plan of vast magnitude for the consolidation of all Western railroads into four systems, which would open a new era of railway development and systematize and cheapen transportation, was submitted to the Interstate Commerce Commission by Hale Holden of Chicago, president of the Burlington lines.

Under the scheme prepared by Holden at the request of the commission, as an alternative to its own plan for seven Western systems, four great transportation systems would radiate from Chicago—north, west and south—each comprising 30,000 miles in the aggregate and a property investment of $2,000,000,000.

Four Systems Designated

The systems proposed were designated as the Burlington, Union Pacific, Santa Fe and Southern Pacific—involving their subsidiary groups. Holden said the suggested alternative would keep the Burlington, Great Northern and Northern Pacific in one system, and that those roads were prepared to effect a consolidation at once if the commission would sanction such action.

Holden said the tentative plan of the commission must be revised, so as to provide for either smaller or larger systems than those proposed, in order to preserve competition, and to permit of future developments. He said each Western system should have access to the Pacific Coast territory and to the Gulf of Mexico as well as the Great Lakes.

AVIATORS FALL 5,000 FEET

Giant Bomber Plane Burned Up in Brooklyn, N. Y.

NEW YORK.—Lieutenant Stanley Smith, army air service, was killed and Major Follett Bradley was probably fatally injured when a giant Martin bomber in which they had just left Mitchel Field for Chanute Field, Fantoul, Ill., was burned down in Brooklyn.

Four student mechanics, privates, who also were in the biplane, jumped with only slight injuries owing to the skilful manner in which Major Bradley piloted the big bomber to earth from a height of 5,000 feet.

The two officers, both of whom were stationed at Chanute Field, were pinned under a wing of the machine, which, brought to earth on wheels, overturned when it struck a hillock. The mishap was due to a broken controlling rod.

JAPANESE MERCHANT SLAIN

Bandits Shoot Young Man as He Defends His Property

VACAVILLE—K. Nakaura, one of the wealthiest Japanese merchants in Solano county, was beaten and shot to death here by two bandits bent on burglarizing his store, after they had tied and bound Nakaura and his young wife.

The shooting occured after Nakaura had succeeded in freeing himself and entered the store, adjoining his living quarters, in the belief that the two bandits had fled after robbing him of $50 cash.

Nakaura was but 21 years old, and recently inherited the mercantile store in which he met his death.

DEATH IN COAL MINE TRAGEDY

Dust Explosion Wrecks Shaft in West Virginia Property

BLUEFIELD— (W. Va.)—Fifteen bodies have been recovered from the mine of the Pocahontas Coal Company at Arista, Mercer county, wrecked by a dust explosion. Twelve of the entombed miners were rescued alive. The exact number imprisoned by the blast would not be known until the records could be checked, mine officials said. The Pocahontas Coal Company is controlled by the National Cash Register Company.

FEDERAL JUDGES ARE NAMED

Appellate Judge James, L. A., Nominee for Southern Jurisdiction

SAN FRANCISCO—John S. Partridge, well known San Francisco attorney and who was Republican candidate for Mayor in 1906, was nominated by President Harding for United States District Judge of the Northern District of California. At the same time the President sent to the Senate the nomination of Judge William P. James of the District Court of Appeal in Los Angeles for the Federal District Judgeship of the southern district.

NAGLE RECEIVES APPOINTMENT

SAN FRANCISCO—John D. Nagle of San Francisco was recently nominated by President Warren G. Harding for Immigration Commissioner of this port, following a recommendation by Secretary of Labor James J. Davis.

RESTRICTION ON SHEEP

SACRAMENTO — Owing to the prevalence of sheep scab in Oregon Dr. J. P. Iverson, head of the division of animal industry of the California State Department, announced that he has issued a new qquarantine regulation, under which the entry of sheep into California from Oregon is prohibited unless accompanied by a certificate of inspection issued in Oregon. The regulation also requires that the California Department of Agriculture be given advance notice when sheep are to be brought into this state.

HISTORY IS MADE BY 67th CONGRESS

Activities of Recent Session Seen at a Glance

WASHINGTON—Following are the achievements of the Sixty-seventh Congress at a glance:

Bills introduced in House and Senate, approximately 20,000.

Bills Passed, approximately 600.

Resolutions introduced, 1,893.

Resolutions adopted, 90.

Days in session, 415 (the longest except the Sixty-fifth or War Congress).

Number of sessions, four (a record).

Legislation Enacted

Peace with Germany declared.

Tax revision, intended to save a billion in taxes yearly.

The Fordney-McCumber tariff, which claims to protect the nation's labor and industries.

Budget bureau created to effect economy in Government departments.

Sum of $6,500,000 to renovate old battleships as a step toward saving something of a navy out of the wreck left by the conference on limitation of armament.

Co-operative marketing and packer acts, stockmen's and farmers' war finance acts, framed to aid farm and business interests.

Independent citizenship for alien women.

Maternity and infancy act to improve social conditions.

British debt funding bill, which extends over period of sixty-two years repayment of $4,600,000,000 by Great Britain to the United States.

Passed a resolution directing President Harding to seek international agreement to throttle growth of products from which narcotics and all forms of "dope" are derived.

Legislation Rejected

The soldier bonus, passed by Senate and House, vetoed by President Harding, and failed to command sufficient strength to override the veto.

The American ship subsidy, talked to death by filibuster.

Henry Ford's bid for Muscle Shoals, buried in committee.

Constitutional amendments for revision of child labor laws, permitted to die through inaction.

MOTORBOAT BURNED AT SEA

Flames Claim Vessel Babinda Off Santa Cruz

SAN FRANCISCO—Fire at sea, the dread of all seafarers, destroyed the Ocean Motorship Company's wooden motorship Babinda, while off Santa Cruz en route here from San Pedro. While the ship, commanded by Captain W. H. Maland, was given up as a loss, its officers and crew were rescued at sea and later brought to San Francisco by the McCormick line's steamer Celilo, in charge of Captain G. H. Swanson.

The Babinda, which is operated by the Pacific Steamship Company, was in the paper trade between Portland, San Francisco and San Pedro, carried no passengers. The loss was estimated last night by local underwriters to be more than $200,000.

MONTEREY PIER COLLAPSES

Canned Sardines Float to Sea, Loss $40,000

MONTEREY—Twenty men, loading 12,000 cases of canned sardines into a gasoline launch from the municipal pier here, were thrown into the bay when 100 feet of the pier collapsed. No lives were lost.

P. T. Dougherty, who had just arrived from San Francisco to supervise the loading of the schooner, took charge of salvaging the cargo. It is estimated that the loss will be about $40,000. The pack was owned by the Booth and Hobden canneries. The city may be later held responsible for the monetary loss.

STATE "FARMER" COUNCIL

Body to Consider Agricultural Problems

SACRAMENTO — Appointment of an "agricultural council" which "will investigate agricultural needs and consider the budget of the State Department of Agriculture," has been announced by Governor Richardson.

The council comprises: James Mills, president of an orchard company at Hamilton City; Superior Judge Peter J. Shields, Sacramento, a breeder of live stock; A. C. Hardisen, Santa Paula, president of the California Farm Bureau Federation; A. T. Spencer, Cranmore, president of the California Wool Growers' Association; Carroll J. Rogers, Watsonville, farmer and orchardist, and George H. Hecke, director of the State Department of Agriculture.

MISSOURI TORNADO

ST. JOSEPH, MO.—Eight persons are known to have been injured, two probably fatally, and property damage estimated at from $250,000 to $750,000, caused by a tornado that crossed St. Joseph early tonight.

WILLIAMS (Colusa Co.)—Reconstruction of the Williams Hotel, which was totally destroyed by fire last week will begin as soon as an architect can be consulted and plans drawn. The damage was estimated at $70,000.

Andrea Sbarboro, who landed at San Francisco from a rowboat in 1852 and rose to an enviable place of power and influence in the banking and commercial history of California, died of influenza last week in his home in San Francisco. He was president of the Italian-American Bank at the time of his death.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Hinch of Grass Valley and their sister-in-law, Miss Sophie Issacson, had a narrow escape when their auto collided with a Northwestern Pacific passenger train at Vineburg crossing in Sonoma. The car was carried thirty feet along the track and wrecked, but the occupants were unhurt except for a bad shaking up and shock.

A cluster of thirty-five navel oranges, all on one branch, was recently placed on display in the windows of the Home Bank of Porterville. They came from the Arthur L. Brooks grove, three miles northeast of Terra Bella, and were picked from a 14-year-old tree. The cluster weighed twenty pounds.

Establishment of a free public market is being carefully considered by the Visalia grange and it is expected that a recommendation will be submitted to the Visalia city managers, following the April election.

Forty names were drawn in the Santa Cruz Superior Court for a Grand Jury to be impaneled to investigate the slaying of Mrs. Elizabeth Master, who died recently of blows which crushed her skull. Her husband, J. R. Master, is charged with murder.

It has been definitely determined by Coroner Frank Bevan that Alva Lee Haslett of Hammonton took his own life, but cause of the act is a mystery. Haslett had been employed by the Pacific Gas & Electric Company at its Pit River plant and was on leave of absence.

"Madame Terrible," a one-eyed mountain lioness, long hunted as the terror of sheep and goats, was halted in her career of slaughter recently by Archie C. Morden and Al Meyers, disabled heroes of the World war, who brought her to Los Angeles shackled after she had run afoul of their trap in the San Gabriel canyon.

Ellenior Limoni, an Italian, was arrested in the woods near this place by Deputy Fish and Game Commissioner J. S. White for hunting and pursuing quail in the game preserve and bringing them to McCloud. Taken before Justice of the Peace Tracey, the hunter pleaded guilty and paid a fine of $50 without a murmer.

The Superior Court has decided that the Western Pacific railroad must keep Smith Canal open to all navigation by building a bridge which will give boats a clear passage. The decision follows the injunction proceedings brought against the railroad by Cyrus Moreing against a midnight attempt of the railroad company to throw a trestle bridge across the canal.

H. A. Frame, Porterville stockman and breeder has shipped a carload of hogs of a special breed to the Government yards at Oakland, to be used for vaccine purposes. Hogs for this use are said to be very hard to obtain and those from the Porterville district are reported among the best for the purpose.

Within twenty days of reaching his ninetieth birthday, John Garvin Libbey, pioneer San Franciscan and one of the few remaining Argonauts of 1849, died last week at his home in Berkeley.
